TOP TIPS
FOR A 50-MINUTE PRESENTATION

Thank you for joining us at the NISTS conference. Here are some tips to help you get ready for your upcoming presentation!

Define the objective
Determine the main goal of your presentation. Identify the key message or takeaway you want to deliver to your audience. They won’t pay attention if they don’t know why they’re there.

Outline the content
Create a clear and logical structure for your presentation. Divide it into sections or key points that support your main objective. Consider adding only 4-5 topics.

Keep it tangible
It’s essential to keep your content focused and tangible. Make sure to include practical pieces beyond the “why” - attendees are interested in the how, who, and what it took.

Plan your slides
Decide on the number of slides you want to include. As a general guideline, aim for approximately one minute/topic per slide.

Present using visuals
Images, screenshots, charts, and infographics can help you stay on topic without going into too much detail. Be sure all text is large enough to be read from the back of the room.

Summarize and conclude
Towards the end of your presentation, recap the main points you covered. Reinforce your key message and provide a concise summary of the insights or takeaways.

Prepare for Q&A
Plan for at least 10 minutes of questions and answer with the audience.

Practice your engagement activities
Rehearse your presentation multiple times to familiarize yourself with the content and flow. Pay attention to your timing and be prepared for both low and over attendee engagement.
